

Please ensure you use this information in discussion with a qualified advisor to ensure proper understanding and to receive careers and education information, advice and guidance appropriate to your needs. Unless stated otherwise, information relates to data released for the 2016 calendar year.

Hourly pay (excluding overtime) - all ages in London

Job family	Good start rate	Mid-level	Top Earners managers & directors	£11.50	£28.10	£62.57
professional	£13.59	£22.59	£39.03
associate professional & technical	£11.02	£17.52	£32.46
administrative & secretarial	£8.40	£13.17	£22.25
skilled trades	£7.51	£11.98	£20.73
caring, leisure & other service	£7.39	£10.05	£15.84
sales & customer service	£7.18	£8.82	£15.38
process, plant & machine operatives	£13.21	£12.17	£19.32
elementary	£7.17	£8.07	£12.50

Earnings

Nationally, the mid-level hourly pay (excluding overtime) for someone aged 18 to 21 was:

£7.45

For those aged 22 to 29 it goes up to:

£10.52

As of April 2017, the National Minimum Wage rates are:

Under 18:	£4.05
18 to 20:	£5.60
21 to 24:	£7.05
Apprentice:	£3.50

In London, the highest paying industry across all ages was financial & insurance activities at £31.19 per hour. A good starting rate for this industry is £13.93 per hour.

The highest paying jobs in London were managers & directors, however these roles typically require years of experience on top of degree level qualifications.

Industries

Across London, most people aged under 25 were employed in the retail and accommodation & food services industries, followed by financial & insurance services.

Between 2016 and 2024 the accommodation & food service industry is likely to see the largest increase in job numbers in London, followed by administrative & support service activities.

Typically higher paying industries such as information & communication and financial & insurance are also likely to see strong increases in job numbers over that time.

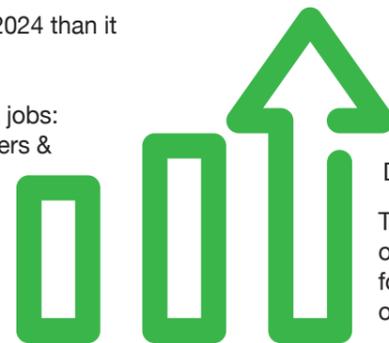

Job Growth

Data suggests that London will have 268,580 more jobs in 2024 than it had in 2016.

Most of these additional jobs will be in high skill demanding jobs: professional, associate professional & technical and managers & directors.

It's not all high skill demand though - the same data shows that low skill elementary jobs will have the 4th largest number of new jobs in London between 2016 and 2024.

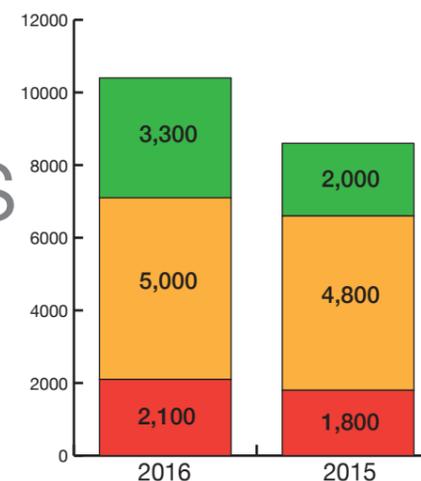

Data suggests that Bexley will have 2,324 more jobs in 2024 than it had in 2016.

The types of jobs likely to have the largest numbers of new jobs are professional and elementary, followed by caring, leisure & other service occupations.

Qualifications

The number of qualified 16 to 19 year olds in Bexley is increasing. In 2016:

- 3,300 held NVQ level 3 qualifications
- 5,000 held NVQ level 2 qualifications
- 2,100 held NVQ level 1 qualifications

In Bexley

41%

of Bexley's 16 to 19 year olds were in paying employment.

This increases to 73%
for those aged 20 to 24.

Most young workers in Bexley were employed in the retail and accommodation & food services industries, which are among the lowest paying nationally.

For more information on different jobs, scan this QR code to go to the ONS occupation coding tool and search for a job title.

Along with more details, typical entry requirements are given.